

SHOWING

Here at Providence we have many showing opportunities to fit each rider's experience, riding level, and commitment. We participate in barn shows, PHJA and PSJ Shows and "A" shows.

We host Barn Shows at our own facility. These shows provide opportunities for our students beginning their show careers, or just wanting to participate and demonstrate what they have learned in class. There are awards at each show and points accumulate for year end prizes. Students may ride PEC horses. Required attire is minimal. The cost is $85 each or Show Package "A".

We also travel to PSJ & PHJA Shows mostly in Charlotte, Camden, Tryon, and Aiken. Students ride either their own horses or PEC horses. Appropriate attire is required. Shows usually involve 1 ½ -3 days. Cost is approximately $125-$500 depending on distance traveled and days showing. This includes training fees, trailering, classes, stall, shavings, groom fees, and professional fees. These shows may be purchased in Show package "B"

For "A" Show participants, a high level of commitment is necessary in order to Participate. We schedule these individually for riders interested in showing at this level.

Show packages- Shows may be purchased in packages and paid for on a monthly basis for barn shows, PHJA shows, and PSJ shows .For complete show package information and show schedule, Please refer to our website at www.providenceequestrian.com.
